THE GREEN BLOBBY MONSTER

Here is a story with missing words. All of the words are being held up by the Green Blobby Monster. See if you can put the right words in the right places.

The Green Blobby Monster

Zuzu has lost something. It isn't her favourite, snugly blanket. It isn't her cuddly teddy bear. And it isn't the comb she uses to do her squiggly hair. She's lost her Green Blobby Monster.

It's time for bed. But Zuzu can't sleep. She won't be happy until she's found her Green Blobby Monster.

She looks inside her toy box. He's not hiding among the cuddly elephants and giraffes.

Zuzu peers under the sofa. There's nothing there but a tiny wind-up robot, a chocolate biscuit, a book full of blobby things to colour in and some colouring pencils.

She opens the fridge and peers inside. There's orange juice and a cheese sandwich, but no Green Blobby Monster. The apple pie has been eaten.

She runs all over the house until she's out of breath. Now it's bed time. She looks under her bed. There is the Green Blobby Monster, fast asleep and making a snoring noise.

It goes: "Zu...zu...zu...zu...zu..."

A FABLE: THE MAN, THE BOY AND THE DONKEY

Read this fable (a story containing a lesson), then answer the questions.

The Man, the Boy, and the Donkey

A man and his son were taking their donkey to market. As they walked along by its side, a countryman passed and said, "You fools, what is a donkey for but to ride upon?" So the man put the boy on the donkey, and they went on their way.

Soon, they passed a group of men. One said, "See that lazy boy. He lets his father walk while he rides."

The man took his son off and climbed on himself. They hadn't gone far when they passed two women. One said to the other, "Shame on that lazy lout to let his poor son trudge along."

The man didn't know what to do, so he pulled his son up beside him on the donkey. When they reached the town, the people laughed and pointed at them. The man asked what they were laughing at.

The people said, "Aren't you ashamed of yourself for overloading that poor donkey of yours – you and your son?"

So they both got off and wondered what to do. They cut down a pole and tied the donkey's feet to it. Then they raised the pole and the donkey to their shoulders. They staggered along until they came to a bridge. The donkey, getting one of its feet loose, kicked out and caused the boy to drop his end of the pole. In the struggle the donkey fell over the bridge, and was drowned.

The old man and his son, feeling sad, made their way home, thinking: "When we try to please everybody, we please nobody."

- 6 What word tells you the man and his son found it hard to carry the donkey?

- 7 What happened to the donkey at the end?

- 8 What lesson did the man and his son learn?

L. S. LOWRY

Read this information about the British painter, Laurence Stephen Lowry. To answer the questions that follow, you'll have to use the clues in the text.

Artist – L. S. Lowry

Laurence was born in 1887. As a child, he did not have many friends. His mother had dreamt of becoming a famous pianist, but her health was bad after he was born.

As a young boy, he lived on the edge of Manchester surrounded by trees. This became too expensive. The family had to move house. Then Laurence had to get used to seeing the smoke from factory chimneys rather than trees. Later, this was to become part of his art.

After leaving school, he studied art. He was interested in painting the landscape of factories, football crowds and working people that surrounded him. He is often described as painting 'matchstick men'.

His mother, who was ill for some time, died in 1939, before she could see how successful he had become.

He died in 1976. By then, he had done over 1000 paintings and 8000 drawings. Thirty-five years later, in 2011, one of his paintings sold for five million pounds.

1 Do you think Laurence had a happy childhood?

4 How do you know the family was not rich?

6 Laurence's mother never saw what a famous artist he became. Why was that?

She died in 1939 (before Laurence was successful).

7 How do we know he spent a lot of time painting?

He did over 1000 paintings and 8000 drawings.

- Penguins' beaks have a little hook at the end to help them feed on fish. They are also able to drink salty seawater.
- Penguins can't fly, but, instead of wings, they have flippers that help them swim.
- The bodies of penguins are shaped to swim easily through the water. They can swim at 15 miles per hour.
- Their feathers are oily so that they can stay waterproof while they are swimming.
- The feet of penguins help them to grip the ice as well as helping them to steer when they are swimming.
- They also huddle together to stay warm. As many as 5000 penguins will crowd close together when freezing winds are blowing.
- They have a layer of fat, called blubber, under their skin to keep them warm in freezing temperatures.
- They have fluffy feathers next to their skin, as well as an outer layer of feathers to keep in the heat.
